

Term Three

Week 3

2009

Kerry Street News

Hi Folks,

Not a huge amount of news this week but I shall try my best.

We say goodbye to Willow and Michelle, it has been wonderful having their happy and calming energy around our school. We wish them well for the future.

Eleanor and Simon are taking the kids for drama, including lots of circus skills, this will be on Wednesdays as of next week.

Coming up >>>

Wednesday, Aug 5th, at 1.45pm.. – Shockproof are doing an incursion.

Pet week – next week (week 4). If you can't bring in your pet some children are going to present them on the computer. We'll hook this up to the TV so it will be nice and clear for all to see.

Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
Dogs	Cats	No animals – it's music day	Small animals	Animals that couldn't make it on their nominated day. Talk to teachers.

Swapmeet -- Week 6 this will be on a Friday morning. Kids meetings have been changed to every 2nd Friday due to music being on Wednesdays. Traditionally, swapmeet is held on a kids meeting morning.

Reports are available for collection now.

List of jobs for re-registration and preparing for demolition:

- Shift map draws from store room to Fran's room.
- Fix tricycle- wood platform

- Shift worm farm to a cooler place also lid doesn't open fully at present as it knocks on tree.
- Remove iron support from caterpillar tree

- I will add to this list as we go along.

We are promoting a theme of

care, consideration and social responsibility

this semester.

I'm putting out a revised contact list, so if any of your details have changed please let me know.

Tracey said that she thought Henry was a bit of a cachinnator and so she is the literacy legend this week. Way to go Tracey!! What a legend! The new word of the week is hibernacle [hye-ber-nack-kle] a winter retreat, or the winter home of a hibernating animal.-em

Katie and Milla experimenting dog is all better.

Rena has bandaged a camel playing doctor doctor and Anita's dog is all better.